BEL Working to Resolve Generation Issues on Caye Caulker

BEL teams are currently working diligently to resolve issues affecting a mobile generating unit that is the main source of power supply to Caye Caulker. Between December 26, 2021 and January 7, 2022, residents and visitors experienced seven power outages of up to 20 minutes. These outages were due to electronic component failures on the malfunctioning unit.

BEL assures customers that our teams are working vigorously with the local manufacturer's representative to repair the unit and minimize interruptions in power supply to customers on the island.

In the meantime, BEL has sufficient generation capacity of 4MW to meet a peak demand of about 2MW on the island, which is typical during the height of the tourism season.

We thank our customers for their patience while our teams focus on completing repairs within the next two weeks to ensure stable power supply to Caye Caulker.

Work in progress to resolve faulty generation unit supplying power to Caye Caulker.
